“LUMINOUS OIL FLORALS”

with Sharon Lynn Williams

The secret to luminous oil painting, Sharon believes, is in using a transparent wet underpainting in vibrant colours, followed by a top layer of opaque paint, leaving some of the stunning underpainting to show through in places. Please join her in this two day exploration of that process, using a still life floral set-up, either from life (always the best option!) or from photo reference.

On the first day Sharon will lead a paint-along to teach you the technique, and on the second day you will try your hand at your own painting with lots of help and encouragement from her.

For experienced beginners to intermediate painters
